THREE MEN MEET FATE IN FLIGHT

Escaping From Gasoline Bill
—Woman Claims They Had Kidnapped Her En
Route

Part of Sheriff E. T. Kellar's force made their first arrest on the day of his induction into the office, Monday, following receipt of a wire from Bill Callier, owner and operator of a gasoline station on the Louisiana-Mississippi line.

The men arrested were Carl Arnold, John Doyle and John Hore, of Rasmberg, Maryland, charged with having purchased ten gallons of gas from Callier and making good their escape without paying for same, who were riding in an automobile bearing a Missouri license.

The arrests were made by Mark Oliver and L. T. W. Mitchell, deputies from the sheriff's office.

The men did not deny the charge and were held both by Sheriff Kellar and County Attorney E. J. Gex. The chief of police at Rasmberg was wired, asking further information about the men held and if they were wanted. Receiving no reply a tracer followed and the chief of police at the other end said he was making an investigation. However, on Wednesday hearing nothing further, on payment of the amount due the gasoline purchase, the men were allowed to go their way. They sold their auto for $15.00 to a local garage and were able to pay their debt and which supplied funds for further travel eastward.

Woman Files Complaint.

After the arrest of the men, Mrs. Ella Morris of Cottondale, Fla., complained to the authorities that the men had kidnapped her and on their way out from New Orleans had "dumped her," as she stated. She had hitch-hiked her way to Bay St. Louis the day previously and was awaiting their arrival. Her complaint having no substantiation the men were not arrested on this charge. She wired a relative in Florida of her plight, so she states, and is remaining here until Monday when she expects assistance to enable her to travel back home. Mrs. Morris is a young woman.

Arnold, Doyle and Hore stayed in the county jail while here.

H. W. OSOINACH IS SPEAKER FOR BAY ROTARY CLUB

Gives Keynote For New Year, Comparing Past With Better Things—To Biloxi Next Week

Henry W. Osinach, local young business man and civic leader, was the program speaker before Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Wednesday. His message was one of optimism. He compared the immediate past year with the time previously when we were wont to spend practically without limit. He said business last year was not so stressed as one would think. "For myself," he said, "my trade prospered favorably with the holiday season of 1930," and continuing, he said he felt sure everybody in business enjoyed the same results. He continued, we possibly felt the depressed times more than we should because we were not free to spend as much as formerly; that this tended to incline one to an unpleasant mental attitude. His hopeful view for the new year was refreshing as well as logical and convincing.

The club will meet at Biloxi next Thursday night at an inter-city meet, when Rabbi Binstock of New Orleans will speak. And on the following Wednesday the club will be guest of the Home Economics at Bay High School, the feature program to be supplied by the school.

SHERIFF MAKES BOND AND TAKES FOUR-YEAR TERM

Who was sworn in Monday morning as Hancock County's new sheriff, T. E. Kellar, was elected to a four-year term by the Board of Supervisors. Horace L. Kergosien was appointed chief deputy, which the Board also approved, including the appointment of Jos. V. Bontemps, deputy. Sheriff Kellar announced no other appointments, for the time being, at least.

King's Daughters In Regular Monthly Meeting Monday of This Week

Regular monthly meeting of Bay St. Louis King's Daughters and Sons, and the first of the new year, was held Monday afternoon at Hotel Weston, with Mrs. A. F. Fournier, State president, present, and Mrs. E. J. Leonard, local president, presiding.

The president reported that the building recently purchased by the local chapter for hospital purposes had been remodeled within and so built as to make it fit for hospital use. Mrs. Leonard said how the work was done, how much it cost and told of various contributions helping the cause. That the "hospital" had moved from its former location in Main street and was ready for the reception of patients.

It was shown that it would now cost less in cash to operate the hospital and that in time the finances of the institution would be in better shape, all of which is encouraging to that valiant band of workers who make it possible to keep the hospital going.

It was also stated, that notwithstanding the many improvements that had been made within the building, remodeling and painting, that it was planned to build to rear of the building a wide porch, to be "glassed" in order patients convalescing might enjoy the benefits of such a sun parlor and the privacy of same. It had originally been planned to do this later, but Mrs. Leonard was of the opinion it could be done now and should be accomplished. The meeting was well attended and the usual interest prevailed.

GLOVER TO TRY FOR 5TH LETTER

Ralph Wheatley Writes Of
Glover's Ambitions—
Majoring In Physical Education.

By RALPH WHEATLEY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Now if Tulane had stuck to its running game and had not passed so much it might have beaten Southern California. No, the Trojans had too much power for them.

So goes the replaying of the Rose Bowl game in club and barber shop over the land. But in all there is nothing but praise for Harry (Wop) Glover, mighty midwest right half-back of Tulane, who rose to dazzling heights of football play in the Bowl of Roses.

Always regarded as a dangerous ball carrier but never as a defensive man because of his small size, Wop gave a demonstration of offensive and defensive football in California that tingled the spine of the spectators and amazed the Trojans.

The sight of this 165-pound, five and one-half-foot lad breaking off for 53 and 33-yard runs and blocking and tackling the big men of California brought in mind Jack the Giant Killer. He played like a two hundred-pound six-footer, making one of Tulane's touchdowns and setting the ball up for the other score.

He returns today a hero in defeat to receive the plaudits of the New Orleans populace along with the other members of the team in a street parade.

This is all very fine but Wop Glover is more concerned at the moment over whether he can win his fifth in boxing. He is the first four-letter man ever produced at Tulane. He has won his "T" in football, basketball, baseball and track and what he expects to win in boxing. He is the first four-letter man at Tulane in twenty years. The last being Bert Semmes Walmsley, present mayor of New Orleans who led the home-coming reception committee.

Glover takes his sports seriously. He is majoring in physical education and after graduation this year he hopes to embark on a coaching career. He comes from the town of Bay St. Louis, Miss., overlooking the Gulf of Mexico, which also sent forth Merchant Schwartz, to star at Notre Dame and John Scalfie, Glover's teammate at guard and a star in his own right.

Many Students Return
To St. Stanislaus College After Holidays

Bro. Peter, president of St. Stanislaus College, gratified over the number of registrations for the second semester following the holidays. Generally a few pupils fail to return, but this time not only has the full registration come back but several new faces are seen on the campus and in the class rooms. The college's success in its work and general popularity extends over a wide territory and patrons seek to enter their boys where they will benefit by attending the "school of character."

Bro. Lambert, former president of St. Stanislaus, and who is now provincial, arrived in Bay St. Louis Wednesday morning and will remain here ten days in official capacity. Bro. Lambert is widely and popularly known here and his presence is noted with more than ordinary pleasure.

PRESIDENT FORMER BOARD SUPERVISORS IS AGAIN HONORED

Better known perhaps as "Dick" Cue, member of Board of Supervisors from Bay St. Louis, Beat, and who is again honored by his associates and selected as president. Mr. Cue is attentive, a thorough business man, aggressive and progressive and his business administration has stamped him well worthy of the important office.

PRESS CLUB MEET IN BAY CITY

Newly-Elected Officers Installed—Local Bank President Gives Splendid Talk

(Gulfport Daily Herald)

The Mississippi Coast Press Club met Monday night at Bay St. Louis, the general dinner meeting at the Hotel Weston being preceded by a reception in the home of the new president, Chas. G. Moreau, Carroll avenue, where refreshments were served. At the regular dinner meeting interest was centered around the induction into office of the new officers and the address by George R. Rea, of Bay St. Louis, president of the Gulf Coast Clearing House Association and president of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company.

Declaring that the "future is what we make it," Mr. Rea discussed various phases of the depression and what he expected to see in the future. Deflation was too rapid and readjustment must be made in every industry. Regarding the railroad and labor problems, he suggested that taking over all transportation of roads, boats and air. "He sees the banks of the future as 'safer and with better men to run them.'"

Sane and sound economics in all lines and tariff adjustments were also predicted. He expects Congress to do something to help the general situation and discussed the work of President Hoover in seeking to remedy conditions. Credit corporations and their work were discussed. The greatest need in the present world situation is leadership and confidence, he declared.

Clayton Rand officiated at the ceremony of inducting into office the new president, paying tribute to Mr. Moreau's ability in leadership. Mr. Moreau in turn expressed his appreciation in his new office and asked continued cooperation of the members of the club. Ed Lipscomb, new vice-president, was introduced and To Clayton Rand fell the honor of inducting Miss Lena Pentress as secretary-treasurer.

Biloxi was selected for the next meeting which occurs the first Monday in February.

In attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wilkes, Miss Mary Lena Pentress, Geo. R. Rea, R. E. Brash, O. E. Simon, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott, B. B. Blumfield, Ed Lipscomb and Clayton Rand.

YSTER BOAT IN ILL LUCK

Marie D., of Biloxi Caught
On Lighthouse Ship Wreck
Lying in Bay of St.
Louis

After working some days in an effort to remove the vessel from its perilous position atop the old lighthouse wreck, off Bay St. Louis, the oyster boat, Marie D., owned by the Dunbar, Lopez, Cannery Company, of Biloxi, and operated by Louis Braun, also of that city, was finally released from her position about noon Monday.

The Marie D. originally carried 800 barrels or more of oysters to the foggy night when she lost her course and finally struck the iron tops of the side of the lighthouse vessel that has remained sunk in Bay St. Louis waters for over a period of fifty years, or more, and a constant menace to navigation.

The schooner was towed away to Pass Christian where she was put on the ship ways and will undergo such repairs as necessary before able to again enter the oyster fishing trade. Her cargo was taken off, but the damage to the craft will amount to no small sum. The operations of days when several craft of different type attempted to release the Marie D. from her position was watched from Bay St. Louis with interest.

The hull of the light ship has quite a history. It was a ship of war that originally had been aground at one of the outlying islands for many years. The government finally took it over and transformed it into a lightship. As such it stood until a tropical hurricane came along and swept the ship from her fastenings and it drifted until it hit bottom in front of the city of Bay St. Louis, about a mile or less out from shore. Here it has remained ever since. The hull is built of iron and only until a few years ago its edges stood far above the waters at ordinary tide. Finally the metal corroded in the salty waters of the gulf until these protruding edges fell apart. That portion below the waters remains intact, even though fifty or sixty years have elapsed since.

An effort, it was said, would be made to have the government blow up the bulk with dynamite in order further damage to sailing and other craft might be avoided.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS.

In greeting 1932, S. J. A. extends to all its heartiest wishes for a year full of health, happiness and prosperity—a year filled besides with the choicest of God's spiritual blessings.

The past year was an eventful one for S. J. A. who is mindful of the fact that she could not have met the heavy obligations which the building of the new Memorial Hall entailed without the generous help and co-operation given by her many friends and benefactors. To all these individuals and collectively the Student Body and Faculty of S. J. A. say a fervent thank you, adding meanwhile their best wishes for a most happy New Year.

BASKETBALL.

Basketball practice has started with a bang since 1932. To many of the girls the games in store for the days in the course of the coming weeks was the chief reason for coming to school again.

BAY ST. LOUIS STARS IN ROSE BOWL

ALTHOUGH Tulane did not win the annual football classic over in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, the Green Wave is victorious even in defeat.

Our readers are already acquainted with the score of 21 to 12 and all of the finer points of the game; how a fumbled ball cost so much, and so on. And it is not necessary to review the play here.

However, the California Trojans acknowledge the superior playing of Tulane and claim this one of the most skillful and better players football aggregation that has ever kicked goal in the famous bowl on this classic event.

California newspapers and the local press at New Orleans alike give credit to the long runs of Harry C. (Wop) Glover, and of the fine work of John (Babygrand) Scafield, in addition to lavish praise to the others of the team which include Zimmerman and Dalrymple.

We of Bay St. Louis, of course take an especial pride in the personnel of the players, particularly Glover and Scafield, both bona fide residents of Bay St. Louis.

Glover brought glory to the South, to Tulane and in the final analysis to his home town and people. We are grateful. The home boys are to be congratulated. Both proven luminaries of Tulane grind for 1931.

MILWAUKEE'S EXAMPLE.

HONEST, efficient and economical municipal management is what most American citizens desire to see in their local affairs.

The excellent condition of the Milwaukee city government is in sharp contrast to the financial straits now gripping Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia and other large cities.

According to The Churchman, of New York, Milwaukee has a balance of $4,000,000, one-fourth of which is due to taxes paid in advance. Moreover we read that her streets are scrupulously clean, her police praised by Wickersham, her fire department secures the lowest insurance rate of any city in the land, her children are immunized from communicable diseases, every school pupil has a desk, and there is no unemployment.

Incidentally, Daniel W. Horn, a Socialist, has been mayor since 1916. His controller attributes the excellent condition of affairs to four factors: (1) a citizenship accustomed to, and demanding, good government; (2) a budget system adhered to; (3) a plan placing all departments on a cash basis; (4) a growing amortization fund, which will some day wipe out all indebtedness.

There is no magic involved in the Milwaukee system. It is simple enough to be copied anywhere in the land. It should be.

SOLVES SALES PROBLEM.

BAY ST. LOUIS merchants, facing the same problem, might possibly reap the same results accomplished by John S. Burke, head of a large department store in New York.

Mr. Burke's firm had larger business in November and December than in the same months a year ago. Why? He attributes it largely to "aggressive newspaper advertising." This interests newspapermen, but it should interest merchants.

More important testimony from Mr. Burke includes his decision "to save money on costly circulars, and other store literature distributed through the mails, and add the amount saved, hundreds of thousands a year, to productive advertising."

The season is at hand when a paint campaign would not be amiss. We will never forget the impression of a visitor speaking on his first visit to Bay St. Louis last year. Unreservedly he told of his first impression, that so few houses were painted and so many were distressingly in need of paint. We are seeking an advance in reality. No better way exists than to paint the house and clean up the yard. The old place in need of paint, will not only appear older but will never sustain any value.

News from Tokyo is that Japan wishes China well. Yeh!

Hard work seldom kills the men that it is credited with killing.

An unusual worker is one who does more than the boss expects.

What has become of all this talk about not cutting salaries and wages?

Most money-making schemes seem to have some flaws.

Well, let's be thankful, prosperity is still around the corner!

1932 is just another "leap" year to the average pedestrian.

Maybe 1932 will see a movie production that the producers admit is not the greatest, but we doubt it.

Great Britain with 100,000 soldiers faces India's 300,000,000 people. That's what might be called long odds.

CONGRATULATIONS

NEWLY-ELECTED members of Hancock Board of Supervisors and other county officers were duly sworn in Tuesday morning and there is cause for well wishing and congratulation.

The Board, organized, re-elected Emilio Cue president. This is fitting and deserved. Mr. Cue has given the duties of presidency practically his whole and undivided attention and under his business leadership he has held the reigns in such manner as to merit recognition. Hancock county of late has been peculiarly hard hit with in the past year or so in various ways, potentially two instances, dismantling of the Hines Sawmill removal of its interest and the practical closing of the Weston mill. Other contributory causes have made it a hard road for the county to travel, but President Cue and his associates have held to the helm with noteworthy steadiness and are steering the ship clear of the shallow reefs.

Mr. Cue was not only re-elected but again selected as president of the Board. Other members are Charles Murphy from Beat One, re-elected; John B. Wheat from Beat Two, re-elected; Calvin Shaw, from Beat Three and Lander Necaise from Beat Four. The two new members are Messrs. Shaw and Necaise, however, Mr. Shaw served two terms during former four-year periods.

The Echo is satisfied the county again has a splendid board. That will serve in good stead for the next term, at least. It is a cause of good wishes and congratulations, truly. Of course the Board would not be complete without its efficient clerk, A. G. Favre, clerk of the courts, who, too, was sworn in Monday and took his accustomed place. Mr. Favre has the affairs of the county at his finger tips, thoroughly versed, and ever ready to serve.

It's a funny world. Fourteen years ago the world was trying to break-up Germany and today former enemies are trying to prevent it.

CLEAN-UP COMPLAINTS.

CONSIDERABLE complaint comes to the Chamber of Commerce from private individuals concerning the neglected condition of open spaces and private property. These complaints come all the year round and there seems to be no season of cessation.

Hence there must be some room for protest. We are told the beach in the business section is not what it should be. In spots it is anything but sanitary, that certain merchant or two seemingly have no regard for the condition of sidewalk or along the side of buildings going down the beach, and so on.

The Echo has long since been of the opinion that sanitary measures were evolved to take care of these alleged conditions. But these should not be necessary. Business and personal pride, to say nothing of sanitary elements at stake, one should not have to be reminded that his or her place is in such condition that attention of organized authority must be called.

The Chamber of Commerce has accomplished work. It can accomplish more. But it must urge the co-operation of those who are earning their living here and others to assist in keeping the city clean.

Cleanliness is one of the chief assets of a city of this type. The beach is our front yard. Visitors see it first. Other streets over the city should be the same as our "front yard."

The hope is expressed that there will be no further cause of continued complaint that comes from time to time. The chamber of commerce can function to a certain point. That's all. However, it is willing to assist and co-operate and do all within its powers.

In course of a long married life even a wife may inadvertently admit that her husband has a good point or two.

PUT CONGRESS ON RECORD, AT LEAST.

REGARDLESS of one's attitude to the subject of prohibition, all advocates of a government of the people should favor a direct vote in Congress on the issue.

For years we have had the pitiable exhibition of a set of Congressmen, unwilling to let the voters know how they stand on this debated topic.

Without regard to our opinion of prohibition we may point out that constitutional amendments should originate in action by Congress. In the same manner, so should repeal or revise. The legal, orderly manner to alter the prohibition laws of the nation is to demonstrate that a majority of the elected representatives of the people favor such a program.

A showdown on the subject is assured at the present session. This is as it should be. Let the Congressmen vote themselves Wet or Dry, and then let their constituents pass judgment upon their records. If a majority of the people favor repeal, the election of Congressmen for repeal ought to be easy; if a majority favor the present law, a retention of a majority of Dry Congressmen ought to be assured.

The problem, as we see it, is governmental. There is no need for any special referendum or presidential debate on the subject. The regular election of the members of Congress ought to point the sentiment of the people.

JAPAN PUSHES ON.

AS developments proceeded in Manchuria and Geneva Japanese statesmen realized that there was no nation willing to risk stern measures to prevent her stealing the rich province from China. Therefore, Japan pushes on, and has about established her authority in Manchuria.

In the early chapters the League of Nations and the United States protested. Japan explained, promised and violated her own pledges—all indicating the conflict between the civil ministry and the war office. Now, a new cabinet has been installed, and Japan's diplomatic notes square with its ruthless military policy.

Japan has boldly violated her various treaty engagements, the whole spirit of the League of Nations, and once again taught nations that military might can steal and keep unlawful gain.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

January 5, 1932.

I'M on a vacation! My first in many years! For the next few days I shall miss the familiar order of printer's ink as it arises from newly printed newspapers. My nostrils will be filled with the salty air hanging over the Gulf of Mexico.

For I'm on my way to Cuba, you see. The sunshine of that beautiful island will be good for my body they tell me. No want need inform me that it will be good for my soul.

My hope is that both soul and body can absorb sufficient of that sunshine that it will spread to you, my readers, when I return to my desk to read next week's issue of this good paper. Approaching Havana, I shall view again the famous old castle that stands guard over that shimmering harbor. Once landed, I shall read only Cuban newspapers, and then not much.

However, I shall renew my acquaintance with Sloppy Joe, not so much for the purpose of imbibing his wares as to witness the phenomenon of the wandering American on a "bust," and to wonder if I appear to them as those contrivances of mine do to me.

I shall bask on the bleached sands and wander through old plantations devoted to the culture of cane and tobacco. Perhaps I shall dance at a baile and romantically kiss a petal that falls from the corsage of the queen of the fiesta.

Yes, and before the allotted time shall have expired, I shall yearn for the sight of The Sea Coast Echo, through which I learn to know so many of the people of your town.

A CHRISTMAS CRYALL

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beron, 1341 Wrightwood Avenue, Chicago, were all set to have a Merry Christmas. On the big day they had remembered all their friends, they had food aplenty, and they still had $155 of their Christmas savings. And they had invited Edward Thompson, 2555 Southport Avenue to join them in their Christmas feast.

Now Edward had been out of work for a long, long time. In consequence he looked quite seedy when he presented himself at the Beron door. Fifty years in this vale of tears has grayed his beard and half an inch of it was showing on Christmas Day. His shirt was old and soiled.

But since the poets have said that clothes do not make a man any more than barks make a prison, the Berons immediately began the task of polishing up the rather shabby Mr. Thompson. Beron produced a razor and some soap. Thompson shaved. Mrs. Beron presented him with a shirt. It was old, but it was whole and clean. Thompson ate heartily of the Christmas meal.

"Just think," exulted Mr. Beron after Thompson had taken his departure. "We have been able to do all that, and we still have $155 left. By the way, I left that money in the pocket of the shirt you gave Ed. Thompson. Guess you took it out, didn't you?"

"No, I didn't," admitted the frightened Mrs. Beron.

Mr. Beron looked at Mrs. Beron.

Mrs. Beron looked at Mr. Beron.

Not a word was spoken, but both started out to look for Mr. Thompson.

Friday and Saturday they sought him, but to no avail.

Finally on Saturday night they went to the Sheffield avenue police station and asked the assistance of officers in their search for Mr. Thompson, but more particularly for the shirt and $155.

Came Sunday night. A policeman met Ed. Thompson at the corner of Altgeld street and Southport avenue. But the Christmas guest was no longer the sorry looking individual who had presented himself at the door of his friends. He had on a new hat. He wore a new suit. He sported new shoes and a new, and unfaded shirt. In his pockets were $40 and two bottles of liquor. On his breath was evidence that more of the liquid refreshment reposed within him.

A Merry, merry, Christmas! gazed Edward Thompson as he entered a cell, charged with larceny.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Time to turn old time's page over And begin a brand new year
Future's bright and we are in clover
Lucky friends that we are here.

Life is short and time is fleeting
As a far-off bird's song
Here's a brighter greeting
Life is long just go ahead.

Put the old dead past behind you
Turn your back on stress and strife,
Don't let foes and worries bind you
Take a fresh new grip on life.

Banish trials and frets and troubles
Shut out the shadows from your heart
Let them fade away like bubbles
Smile and take a whirlwind start.

Look with faith into tomorrow
Do your level best today;
Drive old gloom and banish sorrow
Grin and clear the right of way.

Life is beamy on you brightly
As the sands of time are through
Play the game and play it right
And you will thrive in '32."

CURRENT COMMENT

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS CURTAILED REPORT ON PROCEEDINGS.

The holiday adjournment of Congress necessarily has curtailed a report on the proceedings of that body. Senator Walsh has introduced calling for an investigation of the prices on the stock exchange. It is proposed to place a portion of the grain reserve at the command of the President, for relief purposes. The Senate ratified Mr. Hoover's year of grace for the payment of World War indebtedness, by a vote approximating six to one. The House has already taken a similar action, on the ratio of about three to one.

In the house, Legislation is proposed whereby things may be made better for alien bootleggers. Reduction of the pay of Federal employees is up, with good speaking talent on both sides. A Representative has it in mind to place interstate traffic by means of busses under the control of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Independence for the Philippine Islands is brought to the front in a speech by the Resident Commissioner.

EASTERN GOVERNOR FAVORS ATTENTION TO PREVENTION OF FIRES.

An Eastern governor favors more attention to the prevention of fires, not only on account of the direct monetary saving but also as a means for affording employment. Either benefit is sufficient to warrant consideration of what has to be said. Doubtless can get direct evidence from such cities as Baltimore or Chicago, both of whom have had a conflagration means. Those who like quotations can rely on the advice of Shakespeare:

"A little fire is quickly trodden out; Which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

AID FOR RAILROADS ASKED PERHAPS SHOULD BE GIVEN.

Aid for the railroads is asked, and perhaps should be given. One wonders, however, who, in the last analysis, is to do all the aiding that seems necessary, and how the aid is to get the coin from what? King Midas could turn anything into gold, by the mere touch of the hand. Solomon could fall back on the gold of Ophir. The old Spanish kings could replenish their coffers from without the bounds of the country by sending a few ships to rook the Incas of Peru. At the present day, there are no stores of wealth to be had for the taking. The tax payer is the gold mine; but mines are notoriously prone to play out. Wholesale aid, sooner or later will face the blunt proverb that one cannot get blood out of a turnip.

MAKE EUROPE KNUCKLE DOWN AND LIVE WITHIN ITS MEANS.

Joseph Spielvogel lives in Newark New Jersey, nothing is known about him, aside from the fact that he took his pen in hand, expressed his feelings, sent this letter to a New York paper, and it was published. He came from the shadow and will vanish into the mist. He deserves a better fate, for his letter contains a bit of sound counsel regarding debt cancellation, stated in plain English: "Make Europe knuckle down and live within its means."

Scriptural in obeying the command to be diligent in business and fervent in spirit. The business that demands diligence just now is the Manchurian War, a Japanese drive having been set down for Christmas Day. Fervency of the spirit prompts the Flowery Kingdom to express the hope that the Disarmament Conference may be pulled off in February, as planned.

"If I got constipated, I would get dizzy and have swimming in my head. I would have very severe headache."

"For a while I thought I wouldn't take anything—maybe I could wear out the headaches; but I found they were wearing me out."

"I found Black-Draught would relieve this, so when I have the very first symptoms, I take Black-Draught and now I don't have the headache."

"I am a firm believer in Black-Draught, and after using it 20 or more years, I am satisfied to continue its use."

Children Should Have Every Possible Safeguard To and From School.

By W. F. BOND.

During the school term thus far a few serious accidents have happened to children being transported in school trucks. Some have been caused by poor brakes and others by failure to screen the sides of the trucks so that arms could not be thrust through to the outside and placed in danger when passing other trucks or vehicles. We would advise that all school trucks be inspected weekly by the principal of the school or his authorized agent, and that all trucks be so fixed that children cannot put their arms through the sides of the truck. Every possible safeguard should be thrown around children on the way to and from school, whether travelling on foot or in busses.

On ounce of prevention will save a life or someone from being crippled for life.

GLORY IN DEFEAT

N. O. States

TULANE lost to the University of Southern California in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena on New Year's Day in what the Associated Press described as one of the best games ever played in the bowl. Southern California was one touchdown better as the score shows, when nearly all California experts were figuring out not one but eight or nine. But the score was deceptive. Usually in a game between teams in reality closely matched the team wins that gets the breaks, even when outplayed, and in this case California got them, including the officials' decisions.

The result is aptly described by Mr. Mark Kelly, one of the sport editors of Los Angeles, whose interesting story we print elsewhere, when he says:

"Tulane individually and collectively did so many things better than California, that the California fans, after the game, were still wondering how the Trojans were able to win."

The statistics bear him out. For Tulane, with seventeen first downs more than doubled the number made by California. With all their alleged power as supermen and so-called ferocity, S. C. could make only seven. Tulane gained 354 yards from scrimmage to 221 for Southern California. California were said to have a spaghetti shift and spinner so perfected, that no other team could hope to solve them. But Tulane broke them up often, and finally, Tulane, exhibiting again the stout-heartedness they have always shown, came from behind, when the score was 21 to 0 against them, to put over two touchdowns and just miss the third.

So the gallant Tulane team, now acknowledged by the Californians to be perhaps the greatest that has ever come to the coast and so characterized by some of the most famous coaches of the country who witnessed the thrilling combat of Friday, wins glory in defeat in the fact that, although they narrowly lost, they outplayed from start to finish the so-called supermen of the West.

That assuredly entitled the fine body of youths who went West to uphold the football capacity and valor of Louisiana and the South to the great home-coming demonstration they received Tuesday last, of this week.

SPORTS AT STANISLAUS

With the closing of the Christmas Holidays and the return to study and regular hours of the Stanislausians, all eyes focus upon the basketball court once more, and incidentally on the men who will wear the red and black on local and foreign floors.

The first chance local fans will have to see the Rocks in action this season will most probably be next Friday night when they indulge in a practice game with the Kiln envoys. Kiln is reputed to have excellent cagers every season, and with the Rocks just getting into their stride there should be a real exhibition of basketball as it really should be played.

Local basketball suffered a slight loss of glamour due to the fact that last year it was definitely made known that the Stanislaus team would be positively unable to represent Bay St. Louis in Chicago, due to a peculiar state ruling. Nevertheless everyone is looking forward to the regional and State tournaments this year, and we may assure you that this year's team will be way up there at the end.

Brother Conrad is beginning his annual Round-up for his leagues, and incidentally keeping his eye "peeled" for any new material for his Junior team. He usually has this in action very early in the season and we may look forward to seeing some real exhibitions from them this season.

YEAR 1932 PRESENTS NEW OPPORTUNITY

Bay St. Louis Should Resolve Not To Repeat Errors of 1931

Another mile stone in the history of Bay St. Louis has passed. Another New Year is beginning and the mistakes of everyone should be turned to the future.

The twelve months of 1931 have been filled with adversity, with heart aches and with disappointments. Looking back over the year just passed, there is probably not a single resident here, but who will be able to see some error of judgment. Some misguided step or oversight which has been costly both in money and in peace of mind.

Such will be the case so long as time continues. Every New Year, no matter how bright it may appear at the beginning will have its disappointments in one way or another. Just so too, no matter how dark it may look at the opening, there are bound to be bright places which will outweigh the dismal picture presented at first glance.

Just now everyone is turning to the future and a mental stocktaking in the order of the day. Many will have made resolutions to do this or that during the coming year. Some will be carried out. Others will be forgotten after a few weeks and things will drop back into the same old rut.

No matter how many resolutions one may form there is one more important than all others. Determine right now that mistakes of 1931 will not be repeated during 1932. In other words, resolve to profit by the mistakes of the year just passed, and you will find that you will be more efficient in your work, in your judgment as to business enterprises and in every undertaking in which you may engage.

While the loss of 1932 may reveal some errors in the year, you will know that they are not the same as those of 1931. You will have profited by this in some measure.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

The Ancient and Honorable Order of Bull Slingers, now in session at the College. Each and every council went into executive session at or about five o'clock Monday afternoon.

It is, as I said, a very ancient order, has been in existence since colleges and boarding schools were first founded or discovered. Every college and every reliable boarding school has a local chapter which in turn divides itself into as many councils as there be groups sufficient to warrant eligible members.

Eligibility consists merely in telling what took place during the Xmas holidays. Each and every member who has a voice loud enough to claim recognition will and can be heard. Naturally, the fellow (he or she) who has the loudest voice and the greatest amount of gab-flo will take the floor and imagine he is a member of the U. S. Senate. It makes little difference whether the other members believe all that is said, once off the chest they are satisfied, and they feel good and if exhausted will sit down to allow another a voice in the matter.

We are at a loss to account for the amount of hilarity that took place in a remote section of the Orleans call ed Gentilly. (We always thought of it being just a street). Anyway it seems that a couple of our fellow students just tore up the whole town of Gentilly. I am sure the townspeople are glad these naughty boys have gone back to school. Gentilly will again assume the even tenor of its ways and again Gentilly will be quiet as always.

P. S. We just heard that curfew rings at Gentilly at Eight o'clock Central Standard Time. So we are sure that the above mentioned members are certainly eligible for the Ancient and Honorable Order of Bull Slingers.

Santa Claus seems to have been most generous to two of our fellow students. He certainly knew his recipients when he delivered said gifts. Both seem to fit the fellows very inconspicuously. Bruzeau was seen sporting a cigarette holder two and a half feet long; said this was the style now in vogue in the Quarter rancians dans New Orleans. The colors and these naughty boys have of the proverbial violets—the afore-said colors being cardinal red and Irish green. Hardly anyone would know that he carries the holder as the nose of said petit franchise est tr.

Whatever happened to the Santa that visited Bogalusa was a real shame. He visited the home of one Talley and there and then deposited upon said Talley the most beautiful hat conceived by man. In Talley were as tall as Lute Savrier the said receptacle for the cranium of said Talley would seem the sugar loaf perched upon the dunce of the bygone days, but, since the aforesaid Talley is rounded out to the proportions of Good St. Nick, we are in a quandary as to why the good man should have given to this poor inhabitant of Bogalusa such a hat. We are not sure whether it is a hat, but we seem to fit the fellows very inconspicuously. Bruzeau was seen sporting a cigarette holder two and a half feet long; said this was the style now in vogue in the Quarter rancians dans New Orleans. The colors and these naughty boys have of the proverbial violets—the afore-said colors being cardinal red and Irish green. Hardly anyone would know that he carries the holder as the nose of said petit franchise est tr.

Now therefore, I will, on MONDAY, JANUARY 25TH, 1932, between the hours of 11 A. M. and 4 P. M., offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash in front of the Clerk of said Court for probate and registration according to law within six months from this date, or they will be forever barred.

This the 9th day of December, 1931.

COMMENT ON SPORTS*NATIONAL LEADERS DEMPSEY TRAINING. LEVINSKY SURPRISES BASEBALL IN JAPAN.

WILLIAM WALKER, of New York, led all pitchers of the National League, with an average of 2.26 runs earned per nine inning game. He also pitched the most shut-out games, 6. On the basis of games won and lost, Paul Derringer, of the Cardinals, topped the hurlers with 18 victories and 8 defeats, a percentage of .692. Lucas, of Cincinnati, pitched the most complete games, 24 in all. Among the pitchers participating in more than ten complete games, Walker was followed, in order, by Hubble Brant, Maine, and Sylvester Johnson.

The closest batting race since 1892 marked the National League this season with three players finishing less than a percentage point apart. Chick Hafey won the batting crown with the percentage of .3489. Terry, of the Giants was second with .3486 and Bottomley, of the Cards, was third with .3482. Following these came Klein with .337, O'Doul, .336, Grimm .331 and Hornsby, .330. In the club batting, Chicago, with .2984 barely nosed out the New York Giants, who had a team average of .2892.

Jack Dempsey is apparently training himself for a real comeback effort. It is reported that he will continue to box wayward opponents until May and then go into a secluded camp to follow his own ideas of training. Road work, boxing and plenty of rest are considered necessary, but, more important is the escape from the general run of pests who infect training camps and make it practically impossible for a boxer to get his best condition.

"King" Levinsky surprised boxing followers two weeks ago by battering Tommy Loughran at the canvas three times. It was Loughran's first defeat in thirteen fights, since he was knocked out two years ago by Jack Sharkey. Altogether, it was a bad evening for Tommy, who said he had "an off night" and assured his followers that he'll come back again. Both seem to be willing to mix it again, Levinsky saying that he is willing to give Loughran another chance because Tommy did the same thing for him.

John Leonard (Pepper) Martin was overwhelmingly selected for the distinction of turning in the outstanding individual achievement in sports for 1931. In a nation-wide poll, conducted by the Associated Press, the Cardinal outfielder received 75 out of a total of 131 votes. Runner-up was Ellsworth Voss, tennis king, with 16 votes. Outright amateur golf champion, received 11 votes and Lefty Grove, Philadelphia pitcher, nine. Others in the voting included Billie Burke, 5, Helene Madison, 3, Burleigh Grimes, Albion Booth and Max Schmeling, two each. Five received a single vote.

The baseball tourists who visited Japan are home again after demonstrating their complete dominance by scoring seventeen victories in seventeen games played in Japan. The American team played to more than 500,000 spectators and, in Tokyo, the average attendance for four games was 55,000.

Japan has gone in for baseball more thoroughly than any other foreign country and while Japanese were not able to defeat the American aggregation, they need not feel so badly about it because one doubts if any other team could do better. Among the players were Frank O'Doul, George Cochrane, Gehrig, Frisch, Marinville and Al Simmons.

NEW YEAR EVE CELEBRATION AT HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Partridge and Mrs. E. J. Leonard were joint host and hostesses last Thursday evening at a New Year gathering at their home on the North Beach Boulevard, thoroughly informal and enjoyable. A number of friends were invited to spend the evening and to witness the departure of the old and the arrival of the new, regretting not '31 but welcoming the year '32 and with anticipation that marked the event as one of enthusiasm.

Seasonable refreshments were served throughout the evening and the occasion well helped to begin the new year most auspiciously.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE EVENING AT HOME ON PASS CHRISTIAN BEACH.

Miss L. C. Del Bondio and Miss Marie E. Bertrand were joint hostesses during holiday week to an enjoyable and beautiful bridge party at "Blue Heaven," the family home, decorated with all the hue and brilliancy of color and light of the Christmas season.

Innumerable tiny red incandescents peeped forth from green foliage of heavily-berried holly here and there in tasty fastness and wide bands of deep red satin ribbons fashioned in knots and bows gave added color. Holly and mistletoe in abundance entwined en masse over the light chandeliers throughout the house lent added decorative effect by many tiny red lights of light glowing in warmth and told of the festive season.

The bridge party was of six tables and before the test of skill at cards began, a supper in courses was served.

Attending this holiday-week function, including the hostesses, were the following named:

Miss Hazel Abbley, Miss Jane Lang, Miss Marjorie Knost, Miss Elena Patenotte, Miss Louise Lindsay, Miss Gladys Lindsay, Mrs. P. Ambler, Mrs. J. C. Buckley, Miss Anna Louise Liversedge, Miss Katie Fitzpatrick, Miss Nellie Fitzpatrick, Miss M. E. Bertrand, Mr. B. L. Knost, Mr. R. V. Abbley, Mr. Elwood Abbley, Mr. Clyde Lundy, Mr. P. Ambler, Mr. L. Simpson, Mr. Frank Wittmann, Dr. J. C. Buckley, Mr. Robert Allen and Mr. Quincy Cutler.

Unusually handsome awards were presented to these winners. These were: Miss Kate Fitzpatrick, first; Miss Claire Knost, second; Miss Elena Patenotte, low; Miss Jane Lang, cut. Gentlemen: Mr. Elwood Abbley, first; Mr. Bernard Knost, second; Mr. R. V. Abbley, low.

Elaborate Christmas trees, one within the library and the other outdoors were features of the season's decorations. Miss Del Bondio last year won the Coast prize for the prettiest Christmas tree and would have won again but did not wish to enter the contest, sufficed with the honor last year, well exemplifying her unselfishness and well-known generosity.

FRIENDS OF MRS. LACOSTE IN ANNUAL BRIDGE PARTY.

A number of close friends of Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, who assemble each year on the occasion of her birthday, on Friday last met at her home and whiled away the afternoon in bridge-playing, pastimes and social conversation. The gathering was a congenial number extended congratulations and renewed their best wishes for another twelve-month period, at least, hoping in '33 to again assemble in like pleasurable gathering and again renew best wishes.

LARGE PARTY OF PASS AND BAY FRIENDS ATTEND ELABORATE NEW YEAR EVE PARTY.

Miss L. C. Del Bondio and Miss Marie E. Bertrand were hostesses on New Year's Eve to a large mid-night supper dance at Hotel Tivoli, on Biloxi beach, marking the transition of time from the old to the new year.

The table of twenty-four covers was elaborately decorated with red and white carnations and deep colored American Beauty roses, forming an oblong center piece and displaying the artistry of the florist.

A private reception to this number of guests was held in the main parlor, the use of which for only the guests of Misses Del Bondio and Bertrand had been reserved. Here refreshment prior to the supper were served by the hotel force and several voiced appropriate remarks in tune of the season and in compliment to the graciousness of both Miss Del Bondio and Miss Bertrand.

The main dining room, with its orchestra had many reservations, another long table noted, but the particular table of this party was outstanding in its individual decorations and favors, and a separate menu served, which Miss Del Bondio had specially selected.

Enjoying this splendid hospitality of New Year eve were the following named, which included friends from Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis: Participating in the dinner dance were: Mrs. C. G. Moreau, Mrs. Jas. A. Evans, Mrs. E. J. Toca, Mrs. Marjorie Knost, Miss Clara May Sancier, Miss M. Coleman, Miss Anna Louise Liversedge, Miss Ione Abbley, Miss M. E. Bertrand, Miss L. C.
